New York Stock Market

New York, October 21.—The advance In stocks, which was pushed with vigor during the earlier portion of the day, encountered some obstacles later, which resulted in a hesitating and irregular tone. A retrogade movement of the latter part of the day left final prices lower than the previous day's close. The call loan rate was unaffected and the tone of the time money market itself was called somewhat easier. Estimates of the week's currency movement, however, indicated another substantial impairment of the cash holdings of the banks through the renewed demands from the interior. The Subtreasury absorption proved smaller than last week, reaching only $1,217,000, but the total decrease with the interior shipments included was much larger, some estimates running to over $5,000,000. The probability thus is that the only way the banks can have avoided an impairment of the surplus is by continuing the policy of transfer of loans to the trust companies.

A change in speculative sentiment New York, October 21.-The advance surplus is by continuing the policy of transfer of loans to the frust companies.

A change in speculative sentiment was traccable partly to a suspicion that new forces had taken up the market leadership, whose powers and resources are not so much relied on as the banking interests credited with the initiative in the present upward movement. The pronounced pressure which developed against the copper industrials gave color to a supposition of cleavage in market sentiment between great financial groups. Reports of labor troubles on the Missouri Pacific also hurt stocks.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par walue, $2,590,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Total sales of stocks for the day force 992,300 shares.

COTTON MARKETS.

New York, October 21.—Cold weather in the Western belt caused an early advance in the cotton market, but there was constinued heavy selling, much of which was attributed to former large bull interests, and prices made new low records for the movement on some of the latter months during the middle of the day. The close was steady at a net advance of 198 points. The opening was steady at an advance of 6919 points, and during the first few minutes the market sold up to a net gain of 116g 15 points on cevering of shorts and fress buying for long account, inspired by before cables than expected, reports of a better demand for cotton goods in Manchester and the weather map, showing killing frost in parts of the Western belt offerings were very heavy on this advance, suggesting further liquidation by the heavy buyers of last month, and the Western belt forecast calling for cold weather again to might, with higher temperatures to morrow, was followed by a reaction to about the closing figures of last night. At this level there was a big demand from some of the large spot people, and a fresh wave of covering caused a second advance, which carried prices about 6211 points net higher, but when the Texas weather details were received, suggesting heavy frosts, but no actual freezing temperatures in that State, the market again weakened, and active positions sold off to a net loss of 499 points with the later months galking new low ground for the movement. The Oklahoma State details, however, showed killing temperatures more or less generally over the State, which were believed to have put en end to any further growth, and the market later railed on a continued demand from trade interests and renewed covering. The close was some 9@12 points up from 12 points up from 12 points of cotton at the ports to-day were 73,700 bales against 46,611 last week and 48,734 last year.

Another Effort Will Be Made to Dispose of Burley Tobacco. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] [Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Lexington, Ky., October 21.—Auctions amounting to 80,000,000 pounds of Burley tobacco are to be hold by the Burley Tobacco Society within the next few days, and Lexington, the head-quarters of the society, will be the central market, though some will go to Louisville and Cincinnati from the Burley counties very close to them The auction will establish a hogshead market in Lexington, which has never before had any sales of that sort, being solely a loose leaf tobacco market, the largest in the world for Burley tobacco.

Burley counties very close to them Burley counties very close to them Burley counties very close to them as never before had any sales of that sort, being solely a loose leaf tobacco market, the largest in the world for Burley tobacco.

For several days committees from the Burley Society and from the warchouse associations of Louisville and Cincinnati have been negotiating for the auction at those places of all or part of the $0,000,000 pounds in the 1909 pool, and it has been repeatedly reported here that contracts for the sales to be held at one of these places had been closed, but these reports have been unconfirmed at the Burley Society's headquarters here, and most of the $0,000,000 pounds is to be brought here and a hogshead market established.

The tobacco is of the 1909 pool, which the society has made two unsuccessful attempts to seel, once last August terms, and a second time, within the past few weeks, when an auction has been in progress here by sample alone, at which the American Tobacco Company refused to ofter any known bid, and the auction had to be abandoned, as the independent buyers got their full stocks and wanted no more. Both of these unsuccessful attempts at the prices and the tone had to be abandoned, as the independent buyers got their full stocks and wanted no more. Both of these unsuccessful attempts at sales were made in Lexington and about 40,000,000 pounds disposed of.

Under the new plan, the 'obacco will be shipped here from the various small warehouses throughout the Burley samples being brought here, as at the other sales.

Review of Trade.

New York, October 21.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade to-morrow will say:

"The actual volume of trade is well maintained, and the hopeful business sentiment which has been in evidence the last two weeks continues. Retail trade is somewhat affected by the unseasonable warm weather, but reports from most of the leading cities are quite satisfactory and reflect a cheerful view as to the outlook, With prominent railroads signifying their intention to place more liberal contracts for needed equipment next month, the outlook in iron and steel is now somewhat brighter. The advance in brown goods, denims, tckings and plaids is the feature in the dry goods markets. Bleached cottons have sold freely to jobbers and manufacturers, but fine and fancy cottons did not participate in the activity to any great extent. The demand has fallen off since cotton declined. Export trade is restricted by high prices. Dress goods rule very quiet, but men's wear agents report a fair business.

"Orders for shoes again show some increase this week, but trade continues considerably below normal for this time of year."
